

MOHAWKS WIN FROM FORT HOWARD TEAM

Club Boys Too Fast for Service Eleven from Baltimore.

The Mohawk A. C. defeated the strong service eleven from Fort Howard, of Baltimore, yesterday in a hard-fought gridiron game at Seventeenth and D streets southeast, before a large crowd.

The service team proved weaker than was anticipated by the club boys, and only once were the Mohawks held for downs, this coming when they were on their opponents' 5-yard line. The soldiers took the ball and kicked from behind their goal line to midfield.

The Mohawks put up a stubborn defense, and it was impossible for the visitors to penetrate the line for any considerable distance. The club team passed the ball, but the Mohawks were unable to complete its forward passes, although the ball was shot into the receiver's hands, but he invariably dropped it. In almost every case the Mohawks receiving the ball had a clear field in front of him had he been able to hold the pigskin.

The clubmen were able to plunge through the line and circle the ends for long gains. On line plunges the backfield men of the Indians made their gains on off-tackle plays through the line and in circling the ends. The interference formed fast and the men were able to gain many yards.

The Mohawks were too fast for the Fort team and outgassed them. They sized up their plays before the man with the ball was able to gain any distance.

The feature of the game was the running of O'Meara and Hager. The whole back field of the club boys was too fast for the Fort team. On the whole the Fort team played well but were not in a class with the Mohawks.

EXPECT MEETING TO FURNISH EXCITEMENT

New York, Nov. 19.—Disapproval of some of the recommendations advanced by the legislation committee in its re-codification of the constitution and by-laws of the Amateur Athletic Union is expected to make the annual meeting at the Hotel Astor tomorrow an exciting one. The delegates who are to pass on the contemplated changes have already begun to arrive in town, and as the proposed amendments were mailed to them a week ago they will come prepared to wrestle with the problems presented.

Although the changes on the whole have for their object the stricter definition of an amateur, the intent of the committee to strike out the registration of women swimmers is expected to be bitterly fought. In the local association, the New England and the Middle Atlantic—three of the biggest districts in the union—and the Hawaiian Association, sentiment is against such action and the delegates probably can be instructed to oppose this recommendation.

Truxtons Win Another Game.

The Truxtons yesterday journeyed to Hyattsville to battle the team representing that town, and though they expected their first defeat, added another limb to their family tree of victories by defeating their opponents by 24 to 6. The game was a clean and well played throughout, and furnished the attendance with many thrills. Sonnenburg for the losers led his teammates in honors for good playing, while the Truxtons owe their victory to the aggressiveness of Johnson at end and the entire backfield. Summary:

TRUXTONS. Position. HYATTSVILLE.
Johnson, L. E. Rock

FALLING ON THE BALL ON COLLEGE GRIDIRONS

Yale.

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 19.—Only the Yale substitutes football players returned to this city tonight, the regulars having gone direct from Princeton yesterday to Atlantic City.

Quarter Back Travers Smith, who was ill yesterday with tonsillitis, came here today. Although weak, he will resume scrimmage Tuesday.

The Yale coaches announced tonight that they expect to present the same line-up against Harvard as against the Tigers except that Smith will return to quarter back.

No Yale players were injured yesterday, except for slightly bruised.

Army.

West Point, N. Y., Nov. 19.—Final preparations for the Navy game in New York next Saturday are to get under way tomorrow. The coaches will have their hands full this week putting the finishing touches to the soldier eleven. There is much to be done as the cadets have been doing some poor work of late. There is uncertainty as to who will play against the Navy in at least two positions. At end Ford, Shrader, House, Mullins, Timberlake, March and Lewis are all fighting it out. At least four of these men are about on a par and it will take several days for the coaches to make up their minds on this question.

Butler's continued absence is worrying the mentors. If he is unable to start against the Navy, Schlenker, Hurst, or Frier will get the call. The victory over Springfield wound up the most successful home season in years.

Harvard.

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 19.—Harvard's last days before the annual contest with Yale commence tomorrow, when Head Coach Haughton will start the afternoon's work with a long blackboard talk dealing with his observations on Yale's play against Princeton Saturday. Reggie Brown and the Harvard players who saw the game Saturday will also have something to say.

Harvard's substitute team came through Saturday's game without any serious injuries being recorded. If Harvard's regulars had played the game it is a question if they could have held Pollard or defeated Brown.

Pollard's work Saturday has never been duplicated in the stadium. He had a hand in nearly every Brown formation and did about everything except attempt a field goal. Pollard made 29 yards, which includes his rushes running back of kicks and gains through forward passing. In comparison the whole Harvard team gained only 226 yards, while the combined advance by Brown was 472 yards.

Pollard played a beautiful defensive game, three of every five tackles made by the Brown backs being credited to him.

Harvard starts her final week of preparation for the Yale game with a squad of 36 players practically free from injury.

CHI PLAYS NEW BETA AT ARCADE TUESDAY

There will be a game tomorrow night at 7:45 between Chi and Mu-Beta of the Phi Mu Sigma Basketball League at the New Arcade Auditorium. As neither of these teams has been seen in action as yet, this game should draw a large crowd. The Chi team has been strengthened by the addition of Potter and Proctor, two Y. M. C. A. boys, who will probably be seen in the forward positions. All players are requested to be on hand not later than 7:30 p. m., as the game must start promptly at 7:45.
